KASE launches mobile application "KASE Mobile"

Kazakhstan Stock Exchange JSC (KASE, the Exchange) has developed and presented a mobile application "KASE Mobile" for a wide range of users. The application supplements the list of information products of the Exchange and is aimed primarily at simplifying access to the exchange information for retail and professional investors, as well as provides an opportunity to participate in educational trading with its help.

The application allows users to track market and reference information on the majority of instruments traded on the Exchange – stocks, corporate and government bonds, foreign currency. Through "KASE Mobile" one can view data on KASE's market indicators, news of the Exchange and its issuers.

A special feature of the "KASE Mobile" application is a more structured access to information on the markets in one click, the ability of the user to create a selected set of tools for further tracking their prices on one page.

You can use "KASE Mobile" free of charge and without authorization. The app is available on Android and IOS platforms.

When developing the application, the wishes of users of the Exchange's information products, as well as international practices that were adapted for the Kazakh market, were taken into account.

In 2020, more than 1,000 students of the project "Exchange Simulator", which has been held by KASE since 2008 for students of Kazakh universities as part of supporting the quality of higher education and financial literacy, took part in educational trading based on the test version of the mobile application "KASE Mobile". Thanks to the application, students obtained a more comfortable and efficient access to educational trading on the Exchange and to related exchange information. In 12 years more than 8,500 people have taken part in the project "Exchange Simulator". Many of the project participants in the past are now active retail investors and executives in financial institutions.

KASE is considering the possibility of further development of the application to expand its functionality and create new convenient elements so that its users can get closer to the Kazakh stock market.
