RECOMMENDED CASH ACQUISITION

by

NOVA RESOURCES B.V.

(a company indirectly owned by joint offerors (i) Oleg Novachuk and (ii) Vladimir Kim)

FINAL INCREASED CASH OFFER

1. Final Increased Offer

On 28 October 2020 the board of Nova Resources B.V. ("Bidco") and the Independent Committee of KAZ Minerals PLC ("KAZ Minerals") announced the terms of a recommended cash offer to be made by Bidco for the entire issued and to be issued share capital of KAZ Minerals (other than the KAZ Minerals Shares already owned or controlled by members of the Consortium) (the "2.7 Announcement"). On 7 December 2020, Bidco announced that the Acquisition was to be implemented by way of a recommended takeover offer (the "Original Offer").

On 4 February 2021, Bidco and the Independent Committee announced the terms of a significantly increased recommended cash offer comprising 780 pence in cash (the "Original Increased Offer Price") for each KAZ Minerals Share (other than the KAZ Minerals Shares already owned or controlled by either member of the Consortium) (the "Original Increased Offer"). On 8 February 2021, Bidco published an offer document (the "Original Offer Document") setting out the full terms and conditions of the Original Increased Offer.

Bidco and the Independent Committee are pleased to announce the terms of a further increased and final offer comprising 850 pence in cash payable by Bidco for each KAZ Minerals Share (other than the KAZ Minerals Shares already owned or controlled by either member of the Consortium) (the "Final Increased Offer"), together with a special dividend equal to 27 US cents per KAZ Minerals Share payable by KAZ Minerals subject to the Final Increased Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, to all KAZ Minerals Shareholders who are on the register of members of KAZ Minerals at 6.00 p.m. (London time) on the day that the Final Increased Offer becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects (the “Special Dividend”). The Final Increased Offer and the Special Dividend in aggregate have a value of 869 pence in cash per KAZ Minerals Share, on the basis of the Dividend Conversion Rate. The Final Increased Offer has been unanimously recommended by the Independent Committee.

2. Summary of terms of the Final Increased Offer and Special Dividend

Under the terms of the Final Increased Offer, KAZ Minerals Shareholders will be entitled to receive, for each KAZ Minerals Share, 850 pence in cash.

In addition, in connection with the Final Increased Offer, KAZ Minerals will pay the Special Dividend of 27 US cents per KAZ Minerals Share. The payment of the Special Dividend is conditional upon the Final Increased Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects. Subject to the Final Increased Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, KAZ Minerals Shareholders who are on the register of members of KAZ Minerals at 6.00 p.m. (London time) on the day that the Final Increased Offer becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects will receive the Special Dividend. The Special Dividend will be paid at or around the same time as settlement of consideration payable by Bidco under the Final Increased Offer to those KAZ Minerals Shareholders who have validly accepted the Final Increased Offer before it becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects.

Accordingly, under the terms of the Final Increased Offer, when taken together with the Special Dividend, KAZ Minerals Shareholders will be entitled to receive:

For each KAZ Minerals Share	850 pence in cash
	(the "Final Increased Offer Price")
	and
	27 US cents in cash
	(the “Special Dividend”)
	The Final Increased Offer Price and the Special Dividend in aggregate having a value of 869 pence in cash (on the basis of the Dividend Conversion Rate) (the " Final Increased Offer Value ").

The terms of the Final Increased Offer, when taken together with the Special Dividend, value the entire issued and to be issued share capital of KAZ Minerals at approximately £4.1 billion, based on the Dividend Conversion Rate.

The Final Increased Offer Value represents a premium of approximately:

- 35.9 per cent. to the Original Offer Price of 640 pence in cash for each KAZ Minerals Share;
- 11.5 per cent. to the Original Increased Offer Price of 780 pence in cash for each KAZ Minerals Share;
- 69.7 per cent. to the Closing Price of 512.4 pence per KAZ Minerals Share on 2 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to agreement in respect of the Original Offer having been reached with the Independent Committee);
- 52.3 per cent. to the Closing Price of 570.8 pence per KAZ Minerals Share on 27 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of the 2.7 Announcement);
- 58.3 per cent. to the volume-weighted average price of 549.2 pence per KAZ Minerals Share for the one-month period ended 27 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of the 2.7 Announcement); and
- 71.9 per cent. to the volume-weighted average price of 505.8 pence per KAZ Minerals Share for the six-month period ended 27 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of the 2.7 Announcement).

The financial terms of the Final Increased Offer are final and will not be increased.

The revised offer document, which contains the full terms and conditions of the Final Increased Offer and the procedures for acceptance of the Final Increased Offer (the "Final Offer Document"), has been posted to KAZ Minerals Shareholders today, together with the related Second Form of Acceptance. For information purposes only, the Final Offer Document will also be sent, or made available, to persons with information rights and participants in the KAZ Minerals Share Plans.

The Final Increased Offer will remain open for acceptances until 1.00 p.m. (London time) on 9 April 2021. KAZ Minerals Shareholders are urged to accept the Final Increased Offer as soon as possible and, in any event, by no later than this deadline.

KAZ Minerals Shareholders who have previously validly accepted the Original Increased Offer (and have not validly withdrawn their acceptance) will automatically be deemed to have accepted the terms of the Final Increased Offer by virtue of their prior acceptances, and therefore need not take any further action to accept the Final Increased Offer. Subject to the Final Increased Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, all KAZ Minerals Shareholders that have validly accepted the Original Increased Offer will receive the Final Increased Offer Price in respect of their KAZ Minerals Shares.

Commenting on the Final Increased Offer, Oleg Novachuk, Chairman of Bidco, said:

"Bidco is pleased to announce this Final Increased Offer for KAZ Minerals that is recommended by the Independent Committee. Mr. Kim and I are proud of the progress KAZ Minerals has made since its listing in 2005, during which time it has demonstrated strong governance and delivered significant shareholder returns. However, KAZ Minerals must now focus on the execution of a higher risk, capital intensive strategy to deliver the Baimskaya project, the associated implementation risks of which are substantial. In this context, KAZ Minerals' long term interests are best served as a private organisation.

We have listened to market constituents and remain committed to offering KAZ Minerals Shareholders the opportunity to realise in cash the value of their investment at an attractive valuation. Copper market dynamics have evolved since the announcement of the Original Offer in October 2020, and the Final Increased Offer fully reflects this change. We remain convinced that the Final Increased Offer represents a highly attractive return for KAZ Minerals Shareholders."

Commenting on the Final Increased Offer, Michael Lynch-Bell, Chair of the Independent Committee, said:

"Following improved market conditions in recent months and further negotiations with Bidco, the Independent Committee is pleased to announce a Final Increased Offer together with the Special Dividend worth in total 869 pence per share. The Independent Committee unanimously recommends that KAZ Minerals Shareholders accept this Final Increased Offer as we believe it reflects the long term fair value of KAZ Minerals, and strikes a fair balance between the strength of KAZ Minerals' operating assets and development portfolio and the increased risk profile of the Baimskaya project."

Unless otherwise stated, the terms used in this announcement have the same meanings as given to them in the Final Offer Document.

3. Level of acceptances

As at 1.00 p.m. (London time) on 25 March 2021, being the last Business Day prior to the date of this announcement, Bidco had received valid acceptances of the Original Increased Offer in respect of 94,119,370 KAZ Minerals Shares representing approximately 19.91 per cent. of the existing issued share capital of KAZ Minerals as at close of business on the Latest Practicable Date, which Bidco may count towards the acceptance condition of the Final Increased Offer.

The aggregate of those KAZ Minerals Shares in respect of which Bidco has received acceptances (as set out above) and the KAZ Minerals Shares in which the Consortium is already interested represents approximately 59.28 per cent. of the existing issued share capital of KAZ Minerals as at close of business on the Latest Practicable Date.

Of the total number of acceptances set out above, acceptances have been received in respect of a total of 50,233,953 KAZ Minerals Shares, representing in aggregate, approximately 10.63 per cent. of the existing issued share capital of KAZ Minerals, which were subject to irrevocable undertakings given by members of the Independent Committee and other KAZ Minerals Shareholders. Bidco confirms that it has received acceptances in respect of all KAZ Minerals Shares which are subject to an irrevocable undertaking.

The total number of acceptances set out above includes acceptances in respect of 669,129 KAZ Minerals Shares, representing approximately 0.14 per cent. of the existing issued share capital of KAZ Minerals, which were received from persons who are considered to be acting in concert with members of the Consortium for the purposes of the Takeover Code.

In addition, Bidco has now received non-binding letters of intent from Samson Rock Capital LLP and Alpine Associates Management Inc. to accept, or use best efforts to procure the acceptance of, the Final Increased Offer in respect of a total of 15,002,691 KAZ Minerals Shares, representing approximately 3.17 per cent. of the existing issued share capital of KAZ Minerals as at the close of business on the Latest Practicable Date (the "Letters of Intent").

4. Background to and reasons for the Acquisition

The Consortium believes that there is a strong rationale for the Acquisition given KAZ Minerals' shift to a capital-intensive strategy. KAZ Minerals is a well-established and efficient copper company focused on open pit mining in the CIS region.

The Consortium recognises that KAZ Minerals' focus on developing and operating large scale, low cost copper mines in Kazakhstan and the CIS region has enabled it to successfully progress a pipeline of growth projects, including its largest assets in Kazakhstan, Aktogay and Bozshakol.

The Consortium also believes that KAZ Minerals' decision to dedicate efforts to a capital intensive strategy focused on long term growth remains the optimal long term strategic path for KAZ Minerals. The Consortium has the appetite for the significantly higher risks involved in this strategy, which demands a number of years of heavy capital investment with curtailed prospects for a reliable dividend stream. The members of the Consortium accept those diminished prospects but recognise this may be misaligned with the preference of many investors in the mining sector who look for a greater proportion of capital to be allocated to dividends rather than focussed on re-investment into long term growth projects.

The Baimskaya project is one of the world's most significant undeveloped copper assets with the potential to deliver a strong return on investment in the future. However, in the announcement made on 28 October 2020, the Bidco Directors and the Independent Committee of KAZ Minerals highlighted that the risks to the Baimskaya project were significant and had increased. These include project delivery risks, demand and supply dynamics for copper, future prevailing prices for copper and gold, and a reliance on Government of the Russian Federation to make the necessary investments in new infrastructure for the project.

Since the announcement of the Original Offer, certain of these risks have begun to crystallise. KAZ Minerals announced in the Baimskaya Project Update on 18 November 2020 that the Ministry of Development of the Russian Far East and Arctic had submitted for approval by the Prime Minister of the Russian Federation a multi-party Complex Development Plan ("CDP") for new infrastructure in the Chukotka region, including infrastructure to be used by KAZ Minerals for the Baimskaya project. Under the CDP, additional responsibility was transferred to KAZ Minerals for a portion of these infrastructure capital costs. Together with a revised cost for the tailings storage facility and the impact of an approximate one year delay to the project schedule, the capital construction budget for the Baimskaya project is now estimated to be close to USD8 billion. The project will also have a peak working capital requirement of USD700 million in nominal terms over the initial years of operation.

In addition to this capital construction and working capital costs, members of the Consortium anticipate that the financial liabilities that KAZ Minerals will have to enter into associated with life-of-mine take-or-pay contracts will be substantial.

The Consortium believe that the project delivery risks remain elevated; both the project schedule and budget remain subject to change. KAZ Minerals continues to be exposed to unprecedented wider economic instability compounded by a global financial system significantly weakened as a result of the COVID pandemic as well as consistent geopolitical tensions. These factors could reduce the ability of KAZ Minerals to finance the construction of the Baimskaya project from its own cash resources, materially increasing pressure on gearing levels during development of the project. Furthermore, there is increasing risk that KAZ Minerals may need to make material capital investments ahead of definitive commitments from the Russian government in respect of all aspects of infrastructure, whether or not covered by the CDP.

In September 2020, the Russian State Duma approved an increase in mineral extraction tax ("MET") for mining companies in Russia; the Consortium believes the revised MET regime has a negative impact on the overall economics of the Baimskaya project.

The Independent Committee has acknowledged the risks surrounding the successful development of the project are significant. The members of the Consortium accept those uncertainties.

Consequently, whilst the Consortium firmly believes that Baimskaya is the right project to underpin the long term transformation of KAZ Minerals and represents an attractive opportunity to deliver value accretive growth from 2027, the members of the Consortium have concluded that KAZ Minerals' long term development of Baimskaya would be best undertaken away from public markets as a private company.

The spot price of copper reached a five year high on 25 February 2021 of US$9,456/t. The increase in spot copper was seen in the context of rapid depletion of LME and SHFE copper inventories. This trend in depletion of inventories has reversed with March LME and SHFE inventories increasing materially month-on-month. This has coincided with a decline in the spot price of copper which as at the Latest Practicable Date was US$8,973/t, a reduction of c.5.1 per cent. from the five year high price. Notwithstanding this decline, market consensus estimates on the long-term price of copper remain significantly lower than the spot copper price.

In this context, the Consortium is confident that the Final Increased Offer Price represents compelling value for KAZ Minerals on the basis of consensus long-term estimates for the price of copper. Accordingly, the Consortium is offering KAZ Minerals Shareholders an opportunity to crystallise the value of their investment in KAZ Minerals Shares in cash at a material increase to pre offer announcement trading levels whilst providing certainty, in cash, and insulating them from the risks to KAZ Minerals described above.

The Consortium considers the terms of the Acquisition to be highly attractive for KAZ Minerals Shareholders. The Final Increased Offer Value represents a premium of approximately:

- 35.9 per cent. to the Original Offer Price of 640 pence in cash for each KAZ Minerals Share;
- 11.5 per cent. to the Original Increased Offer Price of 780 pence in cash for each KAZs Minerals Share;
- 69.7 per cent. to the Closing Price of 512.4 pence per KAZ Minerals Share on 2 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to agreement having been reached with the Independent Committee); and
- 71.9 per cent. to the volume-weighted average Closing Price of 505.8 pence per KAZ Minerals Share for the six-month period ended on 27 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of the 2.7 Announcement).

5. Background to and reasons for the Independent Committee Recommendation

Subsequent to the announcement of the increased offer price on 4 February 2021 and the publication of the Original Offer Document on 8 February 2021, the spot price of copper on the LME has further increased by 11.5 per cent. and medium-term analyst price expectations for copper have also been revised further upwards, resulting in stronger forecast cash flows for KAZ Minerals.

In light of this, the Independent Committee and its advisers engaged in further extensive discussions with Bidco regarding a further improved offer. Following this engagement, Bidco made a revised proposal to the Independent Committee regarding an improved, final cash offer value of 869 pence per share. This improved, final cash offer value comprises a final cash offer of 850 pence per share and a special dividend of 27 US cents per share (or approximately 19.5 pence per share for KAZ Minerals Shareholders who elect or have elected to receive dividends in pounds sterling), which represents:

- an increase of 229 pence per KAZ Minerals Share (and 35.9 per cent) over the Original Offer Price, and an increase of 89 pence per KAZ Minerals Share (and 11.5 per cent.) over the Original Increased Offer Price;
- a premium of approximately 52.3 per cent. to the Closing Price of 570.8 pence per KAZ Minerals Share on 27 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of the 2.7 Announcement); and
- a premium of approximately 71.9 per cent. to the volume-weighted average price of 505.8 pence per KAZ Minerals Share for the six-month period ended 27 October 2020 (being the last Business Day prior to the date of the 2.7 Announcement).

The Independent Committee is recommending the Final Increased Offer to KAZ Minerals Shareholders as it believes the Final Increased Offer Value:

- fairly compensates KAZ Minerals Shareholders for the increased cash flows generated since 27 October 2020 and the current improved prospects for the KAZ Minerals Group resulting from the increase in the spot copper price and in the medium-term analyst consensus price expectations for copper;
- represents a fair value for KAZ Minerals' operating assets and development portfolio, on a fundamental basis using KAZ Minerals' internal model, whilst reflecting the risks in the development of the Baimskaya project, including its significant estimated capital construction budget of close to USD8 billion and the progress still required to secure the external project infrastructure, principally the power, port and a section of the road; and
- ensures that an offer is put to KAZ Minerals Shareholders at a price significantly greater than 780 pence per KAZ Minerals Share and provides KAZ Minerals Shareholders with the opportunity to realise their investments in KAZ Minerals at a premium in cash.

In coming to its recommendation, the Independent Committee's view on the fundamental valuation of KAZ Minerals has taken account of the benefits of increased market consensus copper prices over the short and medium term. It has also taken account of the current market consensus on the long-term price of copper that, whilst higher than at the date of the Original Offer Document, is lower than the current spot price, which has fluctuated significantly. Given the impact of commodity prices, the Independent Committee notes that, if a KAZ Minerals Shareholder has a materially different view of long-term commodity prices than the current market consensus, the Final Increased Offer Value may be viewed differently by that shareholder.

The Independent Committee, which has been so advised by Citigroup and UBS as to the financial terms of the Final Increased Offer, considers the terms of the Final Increased Offer to be fair and reasonable. In providing their advice to the Independent Committee, Citigroup and UBS have taken into account the commercial assessments of the Independent Committee.

Accordingly, the Independent Committee, having carefully considered the Final Increased Offer and engaged with a number of KAZ Minerals Shareholders, has concluded that it unanimously recommends the Final Increased Offer to KAZ Minerals Shareholders.

6. Action to be taken

The payment of the Special Dividend to each KAZ Minerals Shareholder who is on the register of members of KAZ Minerals at 6.00 p.m. (London time) on the day that the Final Increased Offer becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects (or to the first-named shareholder in the case of joint holders) shall be effected by the issue of cheques, or BACS payments in the case of those KAZ Minerals Shareholders that have provided a valid bank mandate to KAZ Minerals, whether the relevant KAZ Minerals Shares are held in uncertificated form (i.e. in CREST) or in certificated form.

KAZ Minerals Shareholders who have previously validly accepted the Original Increased Offer (and have not validly withdrawn their acceptance) will automatically be deemed to have accepted the terms of the Final Increased Offer by virtue of their prior acceptances, and therefore need not take any further action to accept the Final Increased Offer. Notice to US investors in KAZ Minerals

The Acquisition relates to the shares of an English company and is being made by means of a contractual takeover offer under the Takeover Code and under the laws of England and Wales. The Final Increased Offer will be made in the United States pursuant to all applicable laws and regulations, including, to the extent applicable, Section 14(e) and Regulation 14E under the US Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 (the "US Exchange Act") and otherwise in accordance with the requirements of the Takeover Code. Accordingly, the Acquisition will be subject to disclosure and other procedural requirements, including with respect to withdrawal rights, offer timetable, settlement procedures and timing of payments that are different from those applicable under US domestic tender offer procedures and law. The Takeover Offer is being made in the United States by Bidco and no one else.

Furthermore, the payment and settlement procedure with respect to the Final Increased Offer will comply with the relevant United Kingdom rules, which differ from US payment and settlement procedures, particularly with regard to the date of payment of consideration.

In accordance with, and to the extent permitted by, the Takeover Code and normal UK market practice, VTB Capital and their respective affiliates may continue to act as exempt principal traders or exempt market makers in KAZ Minerals Shares on the London Stock Exchange and will engage in certain other purchasing activities consistent with their respective normal and usual practice and applicable law, as permitted by Rule 14e-5(b)(9) under the US Exchange Act.

In addition, Bidco, its affiliates, their advisors, and the nominees or brokers (acting as agents) may make certain purchases of, or arrangements to purchase, shares in KAZ Minerals outside the Acquisition, such as in open market purchases or privately negotiated purchases, during the period in which the Acquisition remains open for acceptance. If such purchases or arrangements to purchase were to be made, they would be made outside the US and would comply with applicable law, including United Kingdom laws and the US Exchange Act. Any such purchases by Bidco or its affiliates will not be made at prices higher than the price of the Acquisition provided in this announcement unless the price of the Acquisition is increased accordingly. Any information about such purchases or arrangements to purchase shall be disclosed as required under United Kingdom laws and will be available to all investors (including US investors) via the Regulatory Information Service on www.londonstockexchange.com. To the extent that such information is required to be publicly disclosed in the United Kingdom in accordance with applicable regulatory requirements, this information will, as applicable, also be publicly disclosed in the United States.

The financial statements, and all financial information included in this announcement or that may be included in the Final Offer Document, have been prepared in accordance with accounting standards applicable in the United Kingdom and thus may not be comparable to financial statements and information of US companies or companies whose financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the US ("US GAAP"). US GAAP differs in certain significant respects from accounting standards applicable in the United Kingdom. None of the financial information in this announcement has been audited in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States or the auditing standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States).

Neither the Acquisition nor this announcement have been approved or disapproved by the SEC, any state securities commission in the United States or any other US regulatory authority, nor have such authorities passed upon or determined the adequacy or accuracy of the information contained in this announcement or the merits of this Final Increased Offer. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offence in the US.

Forward looking statements

This announcement (including information incorporated by reference in this announcement), oral statements made regarding the Acquisition, and other information published by Bidco and KAZ Minerals contain statements which are, or may be deemed to be, "forward-looking statements". Forward-looking statements are prospective in nature and are not based on historical facts, but rather on current expectations and projections of the management of Bidco and KAZ Minerals about future events, and are therefore subject to risks and uncertainties which could cause actual results to differ materially from the future results expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements.

The forward-looking statements contained in this announcement include statements relating to the expected effects of the Acquisition on Bidco and KAZ Minerals (including their future prospects, developments and strategies), the expected timing and scope of the Acquisition and other statements other than historical facts. Often, but not always, forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking words such as "plans", "expects" or "does not expect", "is expected", "is subject to", "budget", "projects", "strategy", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "does not anticipate", or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or statements that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "should", "would", "might" or "will" be taken, occur or be achieved. Although Bidco and KAZ Minerals believe that the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, Bidco and KAZ Minerals can give no assurance that such expectations will prove to be correct. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will occur in the future. There are a number of factors that could cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements.

These factors include, but are not limited to: the ability to complete the Acquisition; the ability to obtain requisite regulatory and shareholder approvals and the satisfaction of other Conditions on the proposed terms and schedule; future market conditions, changes in general economic and business conditions, the behaviour of other market participants; the anticipated benefits from the proposed transaction not being realised as a result of changes in general economic and market conditions in the countries in which Bidco and KAZ Minerals operate; weak, volatile or illiquid capital and/or credit markets; changes in tax rates; interest rate and currency value fluctuations; the degree of competition in the geographic and business areas in which Bidco and KAZ Minerals operate and changes in laws or in supervisory expectations or requirements. Other unknown or unpredictable factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements should therefore be construed in the light of such factors. Neither Bidco nor KAZ Minerals, nor any of their respective associates or directors, officers or advisers, provides any representation, assurance or guarantee that the occurrence of the events expressed or implied in any forward-looking statements in this announcement will actually occur. You are cautioned not to place any reliance on these forward-looking statements. Other than in accordance with their legal or regulatory obligations, neither Bidco nor KAZ Minerals is under any obligation, and Bidco and KAZ Minerals expressly disclaim any intention or obligation, to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Dealing and Opening Position Disclosure requirements

Under Rule 8.3(a) of the Takeover Code, any person who is interested in 1% or more of any class of relevant securities of an offeree company or of any securities exchange offeror (being any offeror other than an offeror in respect of which it has been announced that its offer is, or is likely to be, solely in cash) must make an Opening Position Disclosure following the commencement of the offer period and, if later, following the announcement in which any securities exchange offeror is first identified. An Opening Position Disclosure must contain details of the person's interests and short positions in, and rights to subscribe for, any relevant securities of each of (i) the offeree company and (ii) any securities exchange offeror(s). An Opening Position Disclosure by a person to whom Rule 8.3(a) applies must be made by no later than 3.30 pm (London time) on the 10th business day following the commencement of the offer period and, if appropriate, by no later than 3.30 pm (London time) on the 10th business day following the announcement in which any securities exchange offeror is first identified. Relevant persons who deal in the relevant securities of the offeree company or of a securities exchange offeror prior to the deadline for making an Opening Position Disclosure must instead make a Dealing Disclosure.

Under Rule 8.3(b) of the Takeover Code, any person who is, or becomes, interested in 1% or more of any class of relevant securities of the offeree company or of any securities exchange offeror must make a Dealing Disclosure if the person deals in any relevant securities of the offeree company or of any securities exchange offeror. A Dealing Disclosure must contain details of the dealing concerned and of the person's interests and short positions in, and rights to subscribe for, any relevant securities of each of (i) the offeree company and (ii) any securities exchange offeror(s), save to the extent that these details have previously been disclosed under Rule 8. A Dealing Disclosure by a person to whom Rule 8.3(b) applies must be made by no later than 3.30 pm (London time) on the business day following the date of the relevant dealing.

If two or more persons act together pursuant to an agreement or understanding, whether formal or informal, to acquire or control an interest in relevant securities of an offeree company or a securities exchange offeror, they will be deemed to be a single person for the purpose of Rule 8.3.

Opening Position Disclosures must also be made by the offeree company and by any offeror and Dealing Disclosures must also be made by the offeree company, by any offeror and by any persons acting in concert with any of them (see Rules 8.1, 8.2 and 8.4).

Details of the offeree and offeror companies in respect of whose relevant securities Opening Position Disclosures and Dealing Disclosures must be made can be found in the Disclosure Table on the Takeover Panel's website at www.thetakeoverpanel.org.uk, including details of the number of relevant securities in issue, when the offer period commenced and when any offeror was first identified.
